Lyng was found dead on the road and suspicion soon led to the arrest of Larson. It was learned that after a wordy quarrel at Iron Mountain the men decided to fight it out with seconds.

MONUMENT TO WISCONSIN'S FIRST GOVERNOR UNVEILED

Little Grace Davidson, Daughter Of Present Executive, Pulled Ribbon That Let Draperies Fall.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Lancaster Wis., July 23.—A tug at a var-colored ribbon by little Miss Grace Davidson, daughter of Governor James O. Davidson, at 4 o'clock this afternoon, and the splendid bronze monument to Nelson Dewey, Wisconsin's first governor was unveiled. Cheer upon cheer from thousands of throats rent the air and Wisconsin paid a lasting tribute to an early day statesman, a man who governed this great commonwealth when she was a baby, a wilderness. Then the national air, "America", was struck up, and enthusiasm went wild. This morning there was a re-nomination of old settlers, and "Dewey voters." Visits were made to the grave of Ex-Governor Dewey in the Episcopal cemetery, and to the Lancaster home of the old executive. At 11:35 there was a public welcome to ex-governors of Wisconsin, Gov. Davidson and party, and state officers arriving over the Northwestern road from Madison. From 1 until 2 o'clock there was a band concert.
At 2 o'clock the exercises began. The autobiography of Gov. Dewey was read to the multitude, a chorus of a hundred voices gave a selection, and Ex-Gov. W. D. Hoard of Fort Atkinson, delivered the oration of the day. Tributes by ex-governors, state officials and old residents, who knew the man, followed.
Gov. Davidson made the presentation address. He lauded Governor Dewey in a brilliant speech, and at the close, gave the sign to his daughter, the flags fell, and the beautiful mass of granite and bronze stood revealed. W. J. Brennan, chairman of the county board, accepted the monument for the county in a neat speech. Lancaster was "dressed up" today. Every business house and residence displayed the national colors. Every thing was decorated. The old guard was out in full force, and reminiscence there was aplenty.

Some of the controversial subjects of papers to be read are: "Full Paid Stock," by Charles Elliott, of Topeka, Kas.; "The Permanent Retention Surplus," by S. Witkowski, of Charlotte, N. C.; and "Life Insurance for Borrowers," by ex-Governor J. Q. A. Brackett of Massachusetts.

Steunenberg in the manner described by him on the witness stand. Orchard was painted as a man who fancied there was glory in the spectacular crime. He declared it would be a long time before the law would sanction the conviction on such testimony as has been adduced against Haywood. He pleaded with the jury not to put a halter about the neck of his client "at the request of the mine owners' association and its representatives."

BOYS EXCUSED ON BURGLARY CHARGE; ONE REARRESTED

Admission Made to Police Declared False on Stand—Hessian Released—Barry Held For Pettit Larceny.

After swearing that his admission to the police concerning the burglary of John Berkness's house on the first of July was a falsehood, Eddie Barry, together with the boy he implicated, Johnnie Hessian, was released by order of Judge Fifield late yesterday afternoon. Nothing could be proven against either lad as older witnesses gave testimony which furnished alibis. At the request of District Attorney John L. Fisher the court dismissed the case. Hessian was set free but Marshal Appleby immediately rearrested Barry on the charge of stealing lead pipe. The chief testified in court last week that Barry confessed to having a part in the theft of lead pipe from an abandoned section west of the railway tracks and implicated other juveniles. On the strength of Barry's statement Eugene Fox and James Riley were arrested and on being brought into court pleaded guilty and were fined $5 each. Implication in the same crime is the charge on which Barry will be brought to trial Thursday morning at ten o'clock. He is out on $500 bail, bonds having been signed by James Reed and Mrs. Johanna Murphy.

Three million, seventy-four thousand, nine hundred and twenty-two votes

Astonishing indeed, and very gratifying, too, was the result of the contest. The big vote cast went far beyond what the Daily Gazette ever hoped for.

To show the immensity of the over three million vote it is only necessary to recall that the total vote cast for President in 1904 by the states of Wisconsin, Iowa, Illinois, Indiana and Michigan was about 2,900,231.

The total vote cast in the Daily Gazette contest was over three million.
 Pretty large? Yes!
 At the stroke of eight last night the big ballot box at the Gazette office was sealed by one of the judges selected to canvass the vote cast in the popular voting contest and all the records were turned over to the committee to decide to whom the prizes should be awarded. The accompanying list is a correct statement of the number of votes cast in the contest.

This fulfills the promise made by the Daily Gazette when the contest was started, under the management of D. W. and G. C. Driscoll, and marks a fitting close to one of the most interesting and hotly contested struggles for supremacy ever attempted in this city. The leaders are proud of their success and those who made so aggressive a fight for leadership and failed have reason to agree that every move was as fair and honorable as the strictest construction of rules and regulations could demand. The features of the contest were so thoroughly noted during the progress of the contest that the votes cast by the friends of the candidates during the last hours of the balloting contained developments as surprising to the Daily Gazette as to any of those most interested in the outcome. The question was asked many times at this office, "Who will win?" and each time the answer was, "It is impossible to tell." The manager of the project and those on the regular staff of the Daily Gazette knew no more than the public, for everything which could be learned was told in the daily announcements.

Exactly at eight o'clock Monday night the polls were closed, and the judges, all representative men, with the ballot box, were taken to the assembly room at the city hall in carriages and were soon busy with the task of counting the votes to determine the winners.

The contestants and their friends were out in force, and while the best of feeling prevailed a sense of suppressed excitement was clearly evident when the count was in progress.

Mr. Edward Behrendt operated the adding machine. He is an expert and by virtue of his experience and the perfect system of checking, the count went along smoothly and quickly and was completed about 10:30.

 The committee canvassed the vote thoroughly, counting the certificates and verifying them so as to leave no room for question of their finding, and that every one interested may be assured of the absolute fairness of the final count. Votes, certificates and records pertaining thereto will be preserved for a reasonable time to permit of verification. It was a great and successful contest, probably one of the most exciting that has ever been known under similar circumstances, and it will go down in history as one of the most hotly contested struggles of a friendly character which has ever been held in this section of the country.

While the Daily Gazette congratulates the winners on their success and the other contestants for the excellent showing which they have made, it feels that it can not overlook its own share of success. It has upon its list many hundreds of new subscribers, and certainly has reason to feel proud of its increased subscription list. The paper is greatly increased in its advertising value and there can be no doubt that its field of responsibility and usefulness in this vicinity is greatly enhanced.

After all the business men and advertisers of this section—the men sending daily messages to the reading public through its columns—are the ones who will receive the most lasting benefit from the contest. The Daily Gazette takes this opportunity of stating to its advertisers that this is only a beginning of its circulation expansion, that it will continue to grow bigger and better and cover a wider field of usefulness as the days go by. We also wish to publicly thank the judges for their kindly assistance at the close of this memorable struggle.

Last, but not least, we kindly ask the public to give the popular contestants who failed to secure the diamonds, watches or trips, their full credit for the great fight they made. All could not win, but all were greatly honored by the loyal support received.

CONCERT ATTRACTED MANY TO THE PARK

Last Evening Some Fifteen Hundred People Enjoyed the Music Furnished by Imperial Band.
 Fully fifteen hundred people enjoyed the weekly concert by the Imperial band at the Court House park last evening. The music was well rendered, the program enjoyed, and the people
 happy at the pleasure of having a place to come and enjoy themselves on a hot night. These weekly concerts given by the band are much enjoyed by the people as a whole and many come from the extreme limits
 of the city for the weekly treat.
 Through a misunderstanding in leaving the temporary band-stand erected during the week whereby the grass
 was badly trampled by children transforming it into see-saws for their enjoyment, the park committee considered the question of refusing permission for further concerts in the park,

 but gave consent that the stand be erected for the evening and be taken down immediately so as not to kill the grass by remaining standing during the interim between concerts.
 Owing to this the band boys played at a disadvantage last evening as their stand had formerly stood beneath an arc light donated by the Electric company free of charge for their use for the summer concerts, and were forced to depend upon the gasoline torches. These band concerts are enjoyed by hundreds and it would be a great disappointment to many if they were discontinued or held where they could not be fully enjoyed.

DONATIONS INCREASE FOR THE BEAR FUND

All the Drug Stores, The Four Banks
 And Gazette Office Have Subscription Blanks.
 Slowly but surely the fund for the purchase of the two bears and the erection of a suitable cage for their home is growing. The lists had hardly been placed in the four banks and at the drug stores throughout the city
 before they received signatures.
 Many who have said they would contribute have not yet signed so that the list will grow rapidly in the next few days. Meanwhile the two little fellows for whom this effort is being made, continue to enjoy life in their dark den near the city hall and delight the crowds that each evening
 come to witness their hour of liberty
 while their cage is being cleaned out with a hose.

NO ADVANCE IN PAY FOR POLICE

COUNCIL REJECTED AMENDMENT TO SALARY ORDINANCE.

FIREMEN NOT CONSIDERED

Action on Proposition Final, Rules Having Been Suspended—Cost of Running Stone Crusher Six months Was $1041.72.

To the surprise of the gallery an attempt was made at the regular semi-monthly meeting of the council
 last evening to advance the salaries of police department employees. The measure was presented by Ald. Jones in the shape of an amended form of the ordinance governing the pay of the marshal's pay from $100 a month to $125, the oldest patrolman's from $75 to $92.75 and patrolmen from $65 to $75; the salaries of all fire department employees remained the same.
 By motion of Mr. Jones the rules of procedure were suspended and the ordinance was advanced to its third reading and placed on passage. It was rejected by an eight to two vote, only Ald. Jones and Dulin favoring the measure.

Lunch Wagons Must Go.
 Ald. W. H. Merritt announced to the city fathers that numerous complaints against the night lunch wagons had been received. One of these was from ex-Ald. E. T. Fish and in it the provision cars were called on wagon wagons. Mr. Merritt presented a measure ordering the police to keep those alleged nuisances off the street and it was passed, all voting aye but
 Ald. O'Hara.

The claim of Katie Trahold, asking $500 for injuries alleged to have been sustained by a fall on a Jackson street sidewalk, was unfavorably reported by the judiciary committee and rejected.

Permission to move a frame building to the corner of North Division
 and First streets was granted to J.
 H. Myers, providing he furnish a written agreement that he will erect a brick building on which to adjoin the structure in question and remove all other frame buildings on the same lot and place the one in question at least thirty feet from the barn owned by Francis C. Grant. Permission to erect a frame ship stand on South
 Franklin street, near Milwaukee street, was also given W. T. Sherer.

Report of Stone Crusher.
 City Clerk Badger's report of the stone crusher for the half year opening January 1, and closing July 1, was accepted and placed on file. The instrument showed the total cost of operating the crusher during that period to be $1041.72, the itemized account being as follows: Rent, $150;
 new steam drill, $142; fire insurance, $30; supplies and repairs, $174.64;
 labor, $85.08.

H. S. Haggard's report of his examination of the city treasurer's books was received and filed. The books of Philip Sheridan for a saloon license, permitting him to sell liquor
 at 213 Wall street, were accepted.
 The report of the street assessment
 committee on sewerage work completed in districts 12 and 15 was received and it was ordered that Contractors Harding & Nelson be paid therefor the sum of $276.03 and $320.
 An order to enlarge the storm sewer inlets on West Milwaukee street, a half a block from the bridge, and to place an additional inlet nearer the bridge and alter the grade so as to improve the drainage, was passed, as predicted in yesterday's Gazette.

New Highway Improvements.
 The city engineer was directed to investigate the possibility and cost of a highway over lots 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, in the Cross addition. This proposed road parallels with Chicago &
 North-Western right of way near the Croak brewery. The plans and specifications for the macadamizing of St.
 Lawrence avenue were adopted and the city attorney was ordered to advertise for bids on the work. On this street, gas, sewer and water pipe extensions were ordered. Similar improvements were ordered for East Milwaukee street, from Division to East street, which highway is to be paved with brick. The establishment of grades was ordered for Bennett, Pine, Palm, Pleasant, Chatham and South Pearl streets. The construction of cement curbs and gutters on Wheeler street, between Main and Garfield streets, Carrington, between Main and Garfield, and Garfield, between Racine and Clark, was ordered.
 The city engineer was directed to establish a curb line, fifteen feet from property on Ravine street, from River to Washington street. The street commissioner was instructed to repair with gravel, Walker street, and the sections of North Main and North Bluff streets north of Fourth avenue. The repairing of South
 Jackson street, between West Milwaukee and Pleasant streets, was ordered.

Special Walk Legislation.
 On motion of Ald. Sheridan the street assessment committee was authorized to act for the council on the matter of establishing a sidewalk
 line and the grade on the south side of Pleasant street between the Court street bridge and South River street.
 This special action was taken to facilitate the construction of a sidewalk which the Janesville Machine company is desirous of building without delay. The same committee asked for further time on the protest of fifteen property owners ordered to build walks on South Pearl street.
 The objections claimed such walks
 were unnecessary and the committee
 wished to investigate the matter.
 Ald. Dulin spoke against the extension of time for consideration, stating that he and his colleagues from the fifth ward had secured the order for sidewalks and that it was customary for the council to abide by such decisions. At request of Ald. Reheld permission to build four foot walks on the north side of Holmes street, between South Academy and Locust streets, was granted, it being stated that large trees prevented wider walks and that walks in adjoining blocks were only four feet. The council also permitted four and a half foot walks on the east side of Logan street between Forest Park avenue and Racine street. For the same highway, was ordered the establishment of a curb line ten feet from property.

New Brick Crosswalks.
 New brick crosswalks were ordered
 as follows: For North First street
 on the west side of East street, north;
 for South Jackson street on the north side of School street; for Western avenue on the west side of South Jackson street; for Washington avenue on the south side of Park avenue; for North street on the east side of South Academy street; for Center street on the west side of Cherry street; for Linn street on the south side of Center street; for Linn street on the south side of Holmes street; for Ravine street on the east side of Pearl street.

The contract for furnishing the city hall and fire stations with coal was awarded to F. A. Taylor, his prices being the lowest—$2 tons of small egg at $8.65, $717.95; 25 tons of range at $8.65, $216.25; thirty tons of pea at $6.25, $187.50. Herman Lehtinen bid was but two cents a ton higher on each grade. W. H. H. Macdon's figures were $8.75 for small egg and $8.75 for range. William Buggs' figures were $8.70 for small egg and range and $6.30 for pea.

ASTONISHING RESULTS.

Follow Each New Discovery of Science.

The great strides that medical science has made in the last few years is due to the germ theory. When the germ of a disease has been discovered, the doctors have not been slow in finding a drug to kill it. In a few years, it will be rare to find a bald-headed man or woman. The falling out of hair is due to a dandruff germ,
 and now it has been discovered how to kill this germ. The remedy used is called Newbro's Herpicide. Its success has been marvelous. Not a failure has been so far reported. It is also a delightful hair dressing, free from oil or sticky substances. Try it and be convinced of its actual merit.

Are You Good at Figures?

If so, get busy and figure out how many tons of gold ore are crushed yearly by 22 mills with a capacity of 1000 tons a day each. The value in gold will average $50.00 per ton. All the mills are located on Clear Creek and have been crushing gold ore since 1859—that's 48 years. They have, and are still losing 30 per cent of all the GOLD THE ORE CONTAINS, it goes off into the creek with the slime, and if you can devise a way to stop this loss of 30 PER CENT OF GOLD, YOU CAN MAKE A MILLION OR MORE. Now figure out how much lost gold is in the creek. It's 4 miles long and 300 feet wide. Our engineers claim the losses from mills are from 5 to 7 millions of fine gold. The only way to get this gold is to use steam shovel dredges and put the sand into tanks and cyanide the gold out. We incorporated May 29th, 1907, and will be at work inside of 90 days. 60 days from starting plant we will pay dividends, and keep it up MONTHLY for ten years to come.

100,000 SHARES OF STOCK HAVE BEEN PLACED IN JANESVILLE—IT'S SELLING AT 30 CENTS A SHARE, and will be worth from $2.00 to $10 A SHARE in a few years, besides paying quick and lasting dividends. Now figure. If you want further information on it address

BREATHING PLACES.
Janesville is indeed fortunate in its "breathing places." The many small parks are proving a blessing this hot weather to the tired and weary who are oppressed by the heat and strain of the day and on the evenings find refuge in the parks. During the day they are filled by mothers and their families and at noon many people avail themselves of the opportunity of a picnic lunch. Men from the factories, girls from the offices, and strangers; all appear to enjoy the liberty of resting during the noon hour beneath the cool shade of the trees, enjoying the noon-day meal, eaten from paper bags and lunch pails. This spring the parks have been beautified by much shrubbery and flower beds and the two workmen employed by the city keep them in excellent shape. On the evenings of the band concerts it is safe to say that nearly two thousand people enjoy the music and the pleasure of sitting on the grass and benches. It is the people's playground and should be properly policed and objectionable characters removed promptly. The parks belong to the people. While it is to be regretted that a playground for the children can not be established, where swings and see-saws might be erected for their enjoyment, they have the parks left and can play and enjoy themselves before the cares of life are assumed. The parks belong to the citizens. They enjoy them. Their taxes, whether paid directly to the city treasurer or to the grocery man, the butcher, the landlord or the baker give them the right to enjoy what nature provided and man beautified. The weekly band concerts are enjoyed and even if the crowds do crush down some grass, tear up some sod, grass will grow again and was made to be walked on and enjoyed. In Philadelphia—old Philadelphia—as laid out by William Penn and his followers, "breathing places" were left every few blocks in the old city. These small parks, today, are an invaluable asset of the city. No city can establish a system of parks after years of growth without a great expense, but the early settlers of the Quaker City created the parks and the cities at the same time. Janesville does not need to create parks. It has them and they are enjoyed.

THE HAYWOOD TRIAL.
Whatever may be the verdict in the Haywood trial, there are possibilities of national evil. If the defendants should be convicted of a capital crime and executed, they would be immediately advertised as martyrs by the socialists of the country. If, on the other hand, the verdict should be acquittal, the socialists could and would justly proclaim this as an international vindication, and the position of that kind of labor organization represented by Haywood and his associates would be immensely strengthened.

TARIFF REVISION.
While the revision of the tariff has been postponed until after the presidential election of next year, it cannot be long delayed, and the subject will inevitably be a matter of discussion during the political campaign. The time for readjustment is near at hand, says the Wall Street Journal.

SCHOOL PROJECT AT STANDSTILL

BIDS FOR REMODELING JEFFERSON BUILDING $15,000 TOO HIGH

ARCHITECT FIGURING TODAY

Cost of Material And Labor Extremely High And Still Soaring, Say Contractors.

Just at present the project for remodeling and enlarging the Jefferson school building in the third ward is at a standstill. Last evening the board of education met to open sealed bids on the building, plumbing and heating and were started by the wide variance between the estimates of the architect and the figures furnished by the contractors. According to the bids it would cost about $35,000 to overhaul the building, erect a wing and install new heating and plumbing arrangements. An appropriation of about $20,000 was asked and the board is now at a loss as regards their future course. After a short discussion of the matter last evening the board voted to reject all bids and return all certified checks, it being considered impossible to shave down from $35,000 to $20,000.

Dr. Buckmaster interviewed. Today, Architect Chandler of the firm of Chandler & Park of Racine, is figuring with the contractors, seeking to find some way in which the bids might be reduced. When asked concerning the matter this morning, Dr. S. B. Buckmaster, president of the board, said: "The board will keep within the appropriation. Partisans of the project have suggested that we proceed to expend the $35,000 and make the city foot the bill. I am absolutely opposed to any such scheme. The council has created the board fairly, squarely and considerately and we will try to do the same by them. If it is found a positive impossibility to do the work planned for $20,000 or a little there over, which extra expense can be borne by a surplus in our repair fund, it is probable that only those changes necessary to make the building sanitary will be attempted. Such would be the installing of a fan system heating plant and new plumbing. The overcrowded condition of the building demands the addition of several rooms, but we will have to make the best of the situation."

The bids received last evening were as follows: BUILDING—J. P. Cullen Co., $25,750; Stewart & Hager, $26,471. PLUMBING—McVicar Bros., $2,215; George & Clemens, $2,225; P. E. Green, $2,225; C. D. Snyder, $2,100. HEATING—McGuire Bros., Rockford, $8,200; Lewis & Kitchner, Chicago, $7,226; National Glove Works, Milwaukee, $7,900; O. C. Davis Co., Racine, $7,840.

Action of the Council. While the board of education was dealing with bids the common council took final action on the appropriation. An amendment to the original ordinance, providing for the addition of $8,800 to pay interest on the bonds, was passed. This finished all question of illegality. The ordinance was given its third reading and adopted by unanimous vote of the council.

FIRST CAMPERS ARRIVE TODAY

MILTON WOMAN ARRIVES ON GROUNDS BEFORE A TENT IS SET.

WELL FILLED WITH ROCKS

Small Boys Thought to Have Pounded Stones in Pump Casing—Car Load of Tents Arrived Today.

Arriving at the Chautauqua grounds this morning, Mrs. Paul and two children, of Milton, were the first campers to put in an appearance at the grounds this season before a tent had been put up. The Chautauqua commences Friday afternoon but Mrs. Paul and her children wanted to avoid the rush and came early. A tent was set up for the first campers this morning after they arrived.

It was discovered this morning that the casing of the pump had been stuffed full of rocks to the bottom of the well. The "trick" was probably committed by some small boys, it is thought. The casing was taken out this afternoon and the pump will be in order by tonight or early tomorrow morning.

Monday night has been decided upon for the boat parade on the river. All of the 40 boats in the Janesville Power Boat club will be decorated and in the line of the parade that will form at 7 o'clock on the river near the city and go up stream past the Chautauqua grounds. The Chautauqua society will give a first prize of $10 and a second prize will be awarded by the boat club.

A carload of tents arrived here this morning and were taken out to the grounds this afternoon. In the lot were 40 family tents, one concession tent, another large tent and four small ones. Workmen began this afternoon setting up the canvas.

Everything will be in readiness for the opening of the Chautauqua Friday afternoon, it is declared, when the first session will be held.

TELLS HOW TO DIVE.

Miss Kellermann Gives Valuable
Directions For Beginners.

KEEP THE KNEES STRAIGHT.

Stand Erect and Incline the Head Slightly Forward, Says World's Greatest Woman Aquatic Expert.
Don't Be Discouraged by Failures.By ANNETTE KELLERMANN,
The world's greatest woman swimmer
and diver.

In diving a beginner should not bother about a springboard. The solid float or the stairway into the swimming pool if the water is at least six feet in depth is the right thing. A simple rule to be followed in order to insure absence of the deplorably awkward and often painful flat strike on the water is for the beginner to watch intently some spot on the chest of her bathing garment. A little white button will serve as well as anything else to rivet the eyes on. This prevents that nervous raising of the head which is so often responsible for the flat dive.

One should stand erect, with the head inclined slightly forward. The arms should be outstretched and the feet well together. They should remain together until the completion of the dive. The spring is made so fast that the forehead or the top of the head strikes the water first. If the face strikes first, a false dive is the result.

Spring lightly into the water head foremost, taking the greatest care to carefully measure the distance with your eye between the platform from which you dive and the top of the water. The knees should be kept straight, or the dive will lack in grace, and nothing is so awkward as an ungraceful dive. This should not, however, discourage the beginner, as diving, no more than swimming, can be accomplished by the novice in a lesson, or

The Australian splash. The ordinary dive.

ANNETTE KELLERMANN DIVING.
two. It takes patience, and it takes trying, with the courage kept well up and the never say die quality always present.

After reaching the water the quick upward turn should be made, and the shallower the water the sharper and quicker the turn in order that there shall be no bumping against the bottom of the pool or river. This is the simple short dive. In the long dive the body is allowed to remain in the same position as when it strikes the water save for the gradual upward turn, permitting the force of the start to become spent. This latter is very graceful, and it is exceedingly exhilarating.

One of the most attractive dives for the spectator is the wooden soldier. This is accomplished by maintaining the same position as in the long dive save that the hands are kept tight to the side and are not extended upward. The body is kept straight or slightly curving, and the legs and heels are kept tight together.

The Australian splash is another novelty. After jumping from the board one lifts the knees and clasps them in the hands, striking the water in a sitting position.

KARL HAU FOUND GUILTY OF MURDERCONDEMNED TO DEATH FOR KILLING HIS MOTHER-IN-LAW.

HEARS VERDICT CALMLY

Riotous Mobs Make Demonstration In
His Favor and Against Mollitor Family—Dispersed by Infantry.

Karlsruhe, Germany, July 23.—Karl Hau, a brilliant young law professor, of Washington, D. C., was condemned to death Tuesday morning after a five days' trial for the murder of his wife's mother, Frau Mollitor, a wealthy resident of Baden Baden, in that city November 6 last.

The prisoner heard the verdict of the jury with perfect composure and chatted smilingly with his counsel after the judges withdrew to fix his sentence. Upon the return of the judges, Hau arose and standing erect, with folded arms, listened to the sentence without moving a muscle. A moment later he was hurried away to prison by half a dozen policemen. The sentence is unpopular with the street crowds, which have been demonstrating more and more openly for several days in Hau's favor and against the Mollitor family.

Riotous Crowds Are for Hau. After the adjournment of the court for an hour's recess at eight o'clock Monday evening, the women of the Mollitor party were compelled to remain in the house of one of the officers of the court because it was dangerous to appear in the streets. A carriage waited for them in the courtyard and it was several hours before they were able to leave. Meanwhile, enormous crowds had assembled in the streets adjacent to the courthouse.

Cordons of police kept the crowds in check for an hour or more, but then lost control of them, the masses pushing and crushing forward to the doors with the evident intention of storming the entrance.

There were many shouts from the crowd of "Hau is not guilty," the voices penetrating to the courtroom. Soldiers Disperse Mob.

The companies of infantry and a squadron of mounted police appeared on the scene and drove the rioters before them. The infantry with fixed bayonets cleared all the streets within 300 yards of the courthouse.

A large number of arrests were made. One old woman was trampled down by the horses, and it is reported that several persons were wounded.

The demonstration in favor of Hau appears to be due largely to the same maudlin sentiment which has made a hero out of many another accused of a daring crime. To the unthinking people, Hau's daring trip to Baden Baden made him appear a hero. Another reason for the demonstrations that have taken place in the last few days appeared in the state's attorney's manner of conducting the prosecution, and it is further explained by citizens that the Mollitors are unpopular in Karlsruhe.

MARK TWAIN HOME AGAIN

RETURNS FROM HIS DELIGHTFUL
VISIT IN ENGLAND.Says King Enjoyed Dining with Him
—Refuses to Tell Now Jokes
for Nothing.

New York, July 23.—Samuel L. Clemens (Mark Twain) came back to this country Monday, bringing with him a degree of doctor of laws, recently conferred upon him by Oxford university in England, and some brand new jokes.

Mr. Clemens was an arrival late in the afternoon on board the steamship Minnetonka from London. Regarding the accounts in the English newspapers of the disappearance of the Ascot cup on the day of his arrival in England, Mr. Clemens told the reporters laughingly that he had the Ascot cup aboard. He firmly stated that he had nothing to do with the robbery of the Dublin crown jewels, saying:

"From the character they had worked up for me they would know that I would have taken the safe as well as the jewels."

He was informed that the old Clemens homestead in Hannibal, Mo., was soon to be sold, and quickly replied that to his knowledge the old homestead had burned down four times. Pressed to tell the best joke he had heard in England, Mr. Clemens said that he was "keeping that." He declined to tell any jokes he had heard, saying that he could get 30 cents a word for them, and that there were no night rates. Asked if he had enjoyed his dinner with King Edward, he replied that the king did. Speaking of English humor, Mr. Clemens said:

"It's all nonsense to say that this or that nation has no sense of humor. We are all alike in this world. We see things from different viewpoints and the humorous features appear to us in various phases."

For all forms of nervous diseases take Dr. Miles' Nerve, whether it be simple nervousness, or those nerve destroying fits and convulsions. It is a tonic for weak nerves—It will restore nervous energy, and give strength to the entire system.

"In 1895 my little daughter was stricken with paralysis of the brain. For seven long weeks she lay like a log. At last she would rally, and spasms would follow. I had the service of two of our best doctors and they could do nothing for her. At times it would take two persons to hold her in bed, and for seven days and nights we had to keep her little head packed in ice. The pain she suffered was so severe. Dr. Miles' Nerve, the druggist advised Dr. Miles' Nerve. I got a bottle and began giving it to her. In about two hours, after about ten days she began to quiet down, and within two weeks' time she was on her feet. She is well and healthy as ever. My wife and I were completely worn out; staying up nights with our little one during her sickness, so we began taking the Nerve ourselves, and with the very best of results."

Dr. Miles' Nerve is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. If it fails, he will refund your money.

A Rude Republican.

A western congressman who goes abroad each year tells of the militant republicanism of an American he met in Brussels last summer. This man, it appears, was a merchant in a small town of Indiana. One morning they were out for a ride, and as they passed through the gates of a public park their equipage passed that of King Leopold, which was leaving the park. Following the custom, the congressman, as did every one else near by, except the merchant from Indiana, lifted his hat, whereupon the democratic Leopold also lifted his hat and bowed and smiled. The merchant sat bolt upright looking straight ahead. "Know who that is?" asked the congressman of the merchant. "Yes," he recognized him from his pictures. It's King Leopold." "Then why didn't you bow to him as I did?" The merchant from Indiana stiffened in his seat and squared his shoulders. "I don't bow to no kings," he said.—Philadelphia Record.

Doing His Best.

The retirement of Col. Mathias, the man who led the Gordon Highlanders when they stormed the heights of Dargai some years ago, recalls a curious story of how he came to join that famous regiment. The gallant colonel is not a Scotsman, but a Welshman, and it was owing to a slip of the pen that he joined the renowned Seventy-fifth regiment. "I was intended," he says, "to go into the old Ninety-fifth regiment, but nine and seven are very much alike, and by a slip of the pen I was gazetted to the Seventy-fifth." A story is told concerning Col. Mathias when he was leading the famous charge at Dargai. "Stiff climb, eh, Mackie?" he said, breathlessly to the color sergeant by his side. "I'm not so young as I was, you know." "Never mind, sir," the sergeant replied, "you're going verra strong for an an' mon."—Tit-Bits.

Safety in Numbers.

Old Uncle Abner, an ex-slave, was very ill, and the daughter of his former master had called to bring him delicacies and to offer consolation. "I hope, Uncle Abner," she said sympathetically, "that you are thoroughly acquainted with the goodness of the Lord." "Of course, I is, chile," the old negro replied. "Why, honey, I've been converted 'bout 14 times."—Lippincott's Magazine.

HOME ENDORSEMENT.

Hundreds of Janesville Citizens
Can Tell You All About It.

Home endorsement, the public expression of Janesville people, should be evidence beyond dispute for every Janesville reader. Surely the experience of friends and neighbors, cheerfully given by them, will carry more weight than the utterances of strangers residing in far-away places. Read the following:

Mrs. B. E. Jones, of 157 Western Ave., Janesville, Wis., says:

"I was not free from attacks of backache for a single day during several years past, and used so many remedies without getting any relief that I came to the conclusion that nothing would help me and stopped trying. I went about all bent over, could not straighten up at all and had a dull pain across the joints and a feeling of weakness that made it hard for me even to rise from a chair. At night I would awaken with the feeling that a great weight was breaking my back, and anyone who has suffered from kidney trouble will know what torture I endured. Finally I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised and wondered if there was really any use of trying another remedy, but seeing them recommended by people in Janesville I got a box at the People's Drug Store and began using them. Gradually I regained strength and the pains and aches finally disappeared. Since I completed the treatment I have not had an attack of backache nor any symptom of kidney trouble, and I believe Doan's Kidney Pills worthy of all the praise that I can give them."

PAUL REVERE'S HOUSE SAVED.

Famous Structure at Boston to Be Preserved as Historical Museum.

Boston.—The old house on North square occupied by Paul Revere at the time of his famous midnight ride in 1775, which has been hovering between salvation and destruction for the last five years, is at last saved to posterity beyond the possibility of a doubt.

What is more, it will cease to be used for any of the homely purposes of its recent past, such as the manufacture of cigars, the vending of cabbages and other supplies for the kitchen, and will become a historical museum and resort of antiquaries, particularly a memorial to Paul Revere, thus realizing the dream of many public-spirited Bostonians who have been active in raising the money to preserve it.

The first decisive move for its preservation was made four years ago by John P. Reynolds, Jr., a descendant of Paul Revere, who bought the property at that time to hold it till such time as a fund could be raised to purchase it for public purposes. And Mr. Reynolds has decided the property for $12,000, his original purchase price, to Grafton D. Cushing, Walter Gilman Page and Charles S. Rackemann, as trustees, who will administer its affairs in the public interest for the present.

About $6,000 will be required for the restoration of the house, which is thoroughly dilapidated. The trustees have at present about $3,000, so it will be necessary to raise as much more before the place will be in first-class condition. It is hoped that all who feel pride in the preservation of the house, and who have not already contributed, will help to make up the deficit, sending any sum, however small, to one of the trustees.

It is also hoped to raise a fund for the maintenance of the building and for the payment of the taxes, unless it shall be exempted from taxation, as its preservers believe it should be, by reason of the object for which it is preserved.

Though the fact is not generally known, the house is undoubtedly much changed in appearance since Revere's day. An architect who is familiar with it says that in Revere's day it was only one story high and had a pitch roof. Now it is of two stories and has an ugly flat roof.

Though it would be both more picturesque and more correct if the extra story was removed and the pitch roof restored, it is feared that if such change should be made there would be a great protest from people who have always regarded the building as representing in its present aspect what it was when Revere lived in it. The interior is very different from what it once was, the rooms having been rearranged to accommodate tenement dwellers and lodgers. Beyond the heavy timbers and possibly a few of the window sashes and doors, it is doubtful if any part of the interior of 1775 remains.

The house is believed to be 226 years old. Revere bought it in 1770 and lived in it till about 1789, when his enlarged income enabled him to purchase a more pretentious house in Charter street, in which he lived till he died in 1817.

BULL HEAD BILL DAHLEN.

Episodes in the Career of the Great New York National Shortstop.

Perhaps it is impossible for Bill Dahlen, the shortstop of the New York Nationals, to appear on any diamond without hearing himself called "bull head." Naturally a phlegmatic fellow, inheriting the stoicism of ancestry that lived in northern Europe, Dahlen may seem stubborn to those who have no intimate personal knowledge of the shortstop's ways.

Bill may not show up as big as

BILL DAHLEN AT THE BAT.

Hannus Wagner or seem as bulky as Ralph Seymour, but he is one of the strongest men in baseball.

Apparently Dahlen's star had set last winter. There were all sorts of comments in the New York papers about Manager McGraw being ready to supplant the veteran. "Dahlen is too old, you know," said some of the imprudent. It also was said that McGraw contemplated putting Tommy Corcoran, another ancient of the National league game let go by Cincinnati, in the hole that would be left by Dahlen's departure. Few figured on it being Gilbert that would be removed with the switch of Corcoran to second base to act as the side partner of Dahlen.

Now, who is covering shortstop for the Giants as well as he did years ago for the Chicago National league club? "Bull Head" Dahlen or "Bad Bill." And the sturdy fellow seems to be as clear of eye and skin as he was when the Chicago fans thought he was the equal of any infielder in the business. Besides, Dahlen is battling above the 275 mark this year and holds his own among his team mates as a useful hitter when runs are needed.

Some one has said that Dahlen will not take baseball seriously; that he has been imprudent with his big salaries. When James A. Hart was president of the west side (Chicago National) team he had many a heart to heart talk with Dahlen. The latter might have called for some advance money, say, and incidentally might have asked for a season's pass for his wife and a family friend or two.

"When are you going to look out for the future—save your money?" the solicitous president, who really thought a lot of Dahlen, would say. "There will come a time, Dahlen, when your arm will go back on you, and those 'good fellows' you have on your staff will pass you up as soon as your money is gone. Now, I'll let you have this advance money, but for heaven's sake don't throw it away."

How well the old timers who used to attend the games on the west side when Dahlen was a member of the Chicago club recall how Bill used to get the boxes of chewing gum presented for home runs. His wife and little daughter in those days were constant spectators at the games, and the little girl would cry out: "See, my papa earned a box of chewing gum for me! 'Nuther home run!'"

The writer has known Dahlen to get a ticket on an off day and go to the running races at Fugall's park, Joliet, Ill., and speak a few words to the local newspaper man who provided him with the complimentary ticket, but to address no one else on the trip down or returning. Taciturn to a degree, he seemed, yet when a little newsboy near the ball players' hotel cried because he was unable to get rid of his papers it was "Bull Head Bill" who bought the overstock, returned the papers and bade the little fellow "Cheer up! You're lucky you're not a ball player!"

Others have it that Dahlen was a disciple of Izak Walton and liked nothing better on off days in Chicago than to go out to Fox lake and fish. But he never had any patience with the casters and trollers. Give him a can of angleworms, a man to row the boat and bait his hook and direct him to a blue gill spot, and Dahlen would sit seven hours on a stretch still fishing. Unless the "Durable Dane" of baseball becomes disabled this season, you may look for him at least another season at short, and for the Giants at that.

THE LION AND THE MOUSE.

By CHARLES KLEIN.

A Story of American Life Novelized From the Play by ARTHUR HORNBLOW.

COPYRIGHT, 1906, BY G. W. DILLINGHAM COMPANY.

"Because," replied Jefferson, "you expect that power over your family as well as over your business associates. You think and will for everybody in the house, for everyone who comes in contact with you. Yours is an influence no one seems able to resist. Ever since I was old enough to think you have thought for me; ever since I was old enough to choose you have chosen for me. You have chosen that I should marry Kate Roberts. That is the one thing I wished to speak to you about. The marriage is impossible."

Ryder senior half sprang from his seat. "So," he said sternly, "this is your latest act of rebellion, is it? You are going to wish on your word? You are going to jilt the girl?" "I never gave my word," answered Jefferson hotly. "Nor did I understand that an engagement existed. You can't expect me to marry a girl I don't care a straw about. It would not be fair to her."

"Don't be a fool, Jeff. I don't want to think for you or to choose for you or to marry for you. I did not interfere when you threw up the position I made for you in the Trading company and took that studio. I realized that you were restless under the harness, so I gave you plenty of rein. But I know so much better than you what is best for you. Believe me I do. Don't—don't be obstinate. This marriage means a great deal to my interests—to your interests. Kate's father is all powerful in the senate. He'll never forgive this disappointment. Hang it all, you liked the girl once, and I made sure that—"

He stopped suddenly, and the expression on his face changed as a new light dawned upon him.

"It isn't that Rossmore girl, is it?" he demanded. His face grew dark, and his jaw clicked as he said between his teeth: "I told you some time ago how I felt about her. If I thought that it was Rossmore's daughter! You know what's going to happen to him, don't you?"

Thus appealed to, Jefferson thought this was the most favorable opportunity he would have to redeem his promise to Shirley. So, little anticipating the tempest he was about to unleash, he answered:

"I am familiar with the charges that have been trumped up against him. Needless to say, I consider him entirely innocent. What's more, I firmly believe he is the victim of a contemptible conspiracy. And I'm going to make it my business to find out who the plotters are. I came to ask you to help me. Will you?"

"I will see him hanged first! He has always opposed me. He has always defied my power, and now his daughter has entrapped my son! So it's her you want to go to, eh? Well, I can't make you marry a girl you don't want, but I can prevent you throwing your self away on the daughter of a man who is about to be publicly disgraced, and I will."

"Poor old Rossmore!" said Jefferson bitterly. "If the history of every financial transaction were made known, how many of us would escape public disgrace? Would you?" "Ryder senior rose, his hands working dangerously. He made a movement as if about to advance on his son, but by a supreme effort he controlled himself. "No, upon my word, it's no use dis-inheriting you. You wouldn't care. I think you'd be glad—on my soul, I do! Then, calming down once more, he added: "Jefferson, give me your word of honor that your object in going away is not to find out this girl and marry her unknown to me. I don't mind your loving your heart, but don't lose your head. Give me your hand on it."

Jefferson reluctantly held out his hand. "If I thought that you would marry that girl unknown to me I'd have Rossmore sent out of the country, and the woman too. Listen, boy. This man is my enemy, and I show no mercy to my enemies. There are more reasons than one why you cannot marry Miss Rossmore. If she knew one of them she would not marry you."

"What reasons?" demanded Jefferson.

"The principal one," said Ryder slowly and deliberately, and eying his son keenly as if to judge of the effect of his words, "the principal one is that it was through my agents that the demand was made for her father's impeachment."

"Ah," cried Jefferson, "then I guessed right!"

"Marry Kate or not, as you please, but I want you to stay here," the elder man said after a pause.

"It's no use. My mind is made up," answered Jefferson decisively.

The telephone rang, and Jefferson got up to go. Mr. Ryder took up the receiver.

"Hello! What's that? Sergeant Ellison? Yes, send him up."

Putting the telephone down, Ryder senior rose and, crossing the room, accompanied his son to the door.

"Think if well over, Jeff. Don't be hasty."

A few minutes later Jefferson left the house.

The door opened and Mr. Bagley entered, followed by a tall, powerfully built man, whose robust physique and cheap looking, clothes contrasted strangely with the delicate ultrafashionably attired English secretary.

"Take a seat, sergeant," said Mr. Ryder cordially, motioning his visitor to a chair. The man sat down gingerly on one of the rich leather upholstered chairs. His manner was nervous and awkward, as if intimidated in the presence of the financier.

"Are the national committee still waiting?" demanded Mr. Ryder.

"Yes, sir," replied the secretary.

"I'll see them in a few minutes. Leave me with Sergeant Ellison."

Mr. Bagley bowed and retired. Ryder, with his customary bluntness, came right down to business.

"Well, what have you been doing about the book?" he demanded. "Have you found the author of 'The American Octopus'?"

"No, sir. I have not. I confess I'm baffled. The secret has been well kept. The publishers have shut up like a clam. There's only one thing that I'm pretty well sure of."

"What's that?" demanded Ryder, interested.

"That no such person as Shirley Green exists."

"Oh," exclaimed the financier, "then you think it is a mere nom de plume?"

"Yes, sir."

"And what do you think was the reason for preserving the anonymity?"

"Well, you see, sir, the book deals with a big subject. It gives some hard knocks, and the author no doubt felt a little timid about launching it under his or her real name. At least that's my theory, sir."

"And a good one, no doubt," said Mr. Ryder. Then he added: "That makes me all the more anxious to find out who it is. I would willingly give this moment a check for $5,000 to know who wrote it. Whoever it is, know me as well as I know myself. We must find the author."

The sleuth was silent for a moment. Then he said:

"There might be one way to reach the author, but it will be successful only in the event of her being willing to be known and come out into the open. Suppose you write to her in care of the publishers. They would certainly forward the letter to wherever she may be. If she does not want you to know who she is, she will ignore your letter and remain in the background. If, on the contrary, she has no fear of you and is willing to meet you, she will answer the letter."

"Ah, I never thought of that!" exclaimed Ryder. "It's a good idea. I'll write such a letter at once. It shall go tonight."

He unlocked the telephone and asked Mr. Bagley to come up. A few seconds later the secretary entered the room. "Bagley," said Mr. Ryder, "I want you to write a letter for me to Miss Shirley Green, author of that book 'The American Octopus.' We will address it care of her publishers, Littleton & Co. Just say that if convenient I should like a personal interview with her at my office, 36 Broadway, in relation to her book, 'The American Octopus.' See that it is mailed tonight. That's all."

Mr. Bagley bowed and retired. Mr. Ryder turned to the secret service agent.

"There, that's settled. We'll see how it works. And now, sergeant, I have another job for you, and if you are faithful to my interests you will not find me unappreciative. Do you know a little place on Long Island called Massapequa?"

"Yes," grinned the detective, "I know it. They've got some fine specimens of 'skeeters' there."

Paying no attention to this jocular-ity, Mr. Ryder continued:

"Judge Rossmore is living there pending the outcome of his case in the senate. His daughter has just arrived "Here is $500 for you. Spare neither trouble nor expense."

"Thank you, sir," said the man as he pocketed the money. "Leave it to me."

JEFFERSON COUNTY PIONEER IS DEAD

Augustus G. Snell Passed Away At Home of Daughter in Fort Atkinson and Other Fort News.

(Special to this Gazette.)

Fort Atkinson, July 22.—Eraustus Gilbert Snell, one of the pioneer settlers of Jefferson county, is dead. Mr. Snell was born Dec. 11, 1814, in the town of Union, Connecticut, and was therefore over ninety-two years of age. On coming west he settled in the town of Oakland, near Lakes Ripley and Cedar. His daughter, Mrs. L. C. Blanchard was the first white child born in Oakland. For the past ten years he has made his home with his granddaughter, Mrs. M. B. Sullivan, of this city, at whose home he died. Mr. Snell leaves 5 children. Mrs. L. C. Blanchard of Santa Barbara, Cal., G. M. Snell, of Oakland; J. A. Snell, of Charlottesville, Virginia; Mrs. M. A. Linton, of Hoboken. He also leaves thirteen grandchildren, eleven great grandchildren, and two great great grandchildren. The funeral services will be in charge of Rev. Henry Hawley, of Pilgrim Congregational church.

The Grand Rapids Reporter last week contained an article on the prosperous condition of the Congregational church, of that city, of which Rev. Fred. Staff is pastor. Mr. Staff for a number of years has had charge of the church in this city. The article states that an excellent financial condition, due mainly to the efforts of Mr. Staff, and the membership is steadily increasing. Mr. Staff's salary has been increased two hundred dollars for the coming year.

The fifty horse power Ideal engine for the day circuit at the municipal water and light plant arrived last week. The Ideal sells now for a thousand dollars, but through an acquaintance, Superintendent Doyle secured an engine, which had been used a short time by a coterie of Winona citizen, who had started a rival electric plant, for the small sum of three hundred dollars, and he considers it a rare bargain. It was made by A. L. Ide and Son, of Springfield, Ill., and is of the automatic governor type and is self-oiling.

The Fort Atkinson Eagles initiated a class of ten, Friday evening.

A. P. Blumline, of Chicago, met several of our billiard experts Saturday and rumor has it that he downed the Fort Atkinson champion.

THE STAR ALPHABET

For those who take life seriously, by Prof. Z. O. Bowen of 10 Corn Exchange.

All things, past, present, and future, are written plainly in the sky by the constantly changing relative positions of moving Planets and the Fixed Stars, and in order to read the sky, just as you would a 12 column newspaper requires very little.

A knowledge of eight moving letters and twelve fixed positions will equip all observers for the solving of every mystery in Creation. If you will draw 6 lines through North Star dividing the whole sky into 12 sections, each 30 degrees wide, then Vega, which star will be directly overhead at 10:22 p. m. tonight, will mark the center. East to West, of the 20 degree section known as Sagittarius in the Almanac, and as the Tribe of Levi and Disciple James in the Bible which is Fixed Position No. 9 of the Star Alphabet. North Star, Vega, Moon, Centaur and Mars are in line from North to South this evening.
